This course offers an introduction to the study of communication, technology, and religion. It examines how information technologies facilitate or transform religious practices and discourses in the context of societal processes. We will explore older and emerging media such as television, internet, and cellphone to understand how religion interacts with communication technologies. With South Korea as a global innovator of new technologies, we explore the relationship between technology and religion in the context of the country's collaborative system of state, industry, and educational sector. We study how new technologies, ranging from internet to cellphones, intersect with older and new religious traditions, including ancient spirituality, Won Buddhism, Islam, Jeungsanism, messianism, and Protestant Christianity.

The basic goals of the course are as follow:

1. To acquire basic themes in the study of technology and religion and how mediums of communication, can impact religion at large, and vice versa.
2. To gain an understanding of religion in its “modern” sense.
3. Study of a non-European cultures and religions in relation with technological experiences.
4. To gain a familiarity with basic theoretical debates on religion and modernity
5. To improve one’s writing and critical skills.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

Assignments:

Assignments and grades will be determined as follows:

Reading Group Assignments	30%
Final Exam	40%
Excursion reviews	20 %
Class participation	10%

EXAMS:

- Final exam is a research paper on a topic of your choice related to the history of South Korea. Maximum: 1500 words. Your paper should include bibliography (APA, MLA, etc.); minimum 5 sources, aside from assigned texts. I will provide a study guide for the final exam.

- Reading Group Assignments: students will form small group of 3 people and write a group review of the week's assigned texts. The review should be 500 words, max. Your group review can range from critical reflections to a creative work based on an assigned text. No need for citation. Due Sunday 11:59pm, starting the first week.

- Excursion Review: After each excursion, you will submit 200 words review of what you experience and in do so relate it to the course material: themes discussed in lecture or assigned texts.

- Attendance and Participation

Active participation for each week comprises 10% of your grade. Students are expected to come to the lectures and are required to attend the sections. Students are also expected to have read the assigned reading materials and be prepared to talk about the reading material and lectures during discussion sessions. You can certainly ask questions during the lectures.

- You must complete all parts of the writing assignment, attend section, and take all exams in order to pass the course.

- Please note that make-up exams maybe allowed only in the case of justified reason for absence.

- The writing exam will be a research paper based on your experiences in excursions.

- You must complete all parts of the writing assignment, attend section, and submit all exams in order to pass the course.

CLASS POLICY & GUIDELINES:

Late Papers

You must complete all assigned papers in a timely manner to pass the course. Late papers will be penalized 1/3 of a grade for each class that they are late.

Plagiarism

The major part of your course assignments and exams involves writings based on your assigned reading. So, make sure to cite your sources, either quoted directly or paraphrased, so to avoid plagiarism. In other words, submit your own original work! See me if you have any questions regarding what constitutes plagiarism. If you are caught cheating you will automatically fail the course.
